HOOVER ORDERS UNRELENTING HUNT FOR SLAYERS OF LINDBERGH CHILD

10 PER CENT PAY CUT VOTED FOR TEACHERS

Reduction Is Second Taken by School Staff in Two Terms

SALARIES FOURTH LOWER

Action Taken by Board as Part of Effort To Balance Budget

Four economy steps including a flat 10 per cent reduction in salaries of teachers and employes were authorized by the city board of education yesterday in a desperate effort to balance the budget.

The salary cut was another of a series of reductions for teachers The board last year made a 10 per cent reduction in their salaries and seven weeks ago cut two weeks off the school term The reduction voted yesterday results in virtually a 25 per cent reduction from salaries paid two years ago School officials pointed out that further reductions in their salaries will result if the board finds it necessary to shorten the coming school term

Abolish 16 Positions

Abolishment of 16 teaching positions was another of the economy steps This will require large increases in classes and in the number of double grades in the elementary schools

The board voted to place all employes on a half time schedule during the summer months This move principally affected janitors

The final step was to abandon practically all of the maintenance and repair program regularly carried on during the summer

Supt George A Bowman voluntarily added a "fifth" economy step to those voted by the board He volunteered a 20 per cent reduction in his contracted salary which the board was without power to reduce Next year he will receive 10 per cent less than his voluntarily reduced salary for last year

The board has listed three contributing causes which have made these steps necessary They are

Causes of Move

A 25 per cent reduction in the tax duplicate through last year's reappraisal and the exemption of much personal property

Apparent failure of the intangible tax law to raise even a fair percentage of the loss in income due to the removal of personal property from the duplicate

Delinquent taxes on real property which for the first half of the fiscal year 1932 has amounted to 18 per cent or a drop of $28 000 in anticipated income from this source

Even these economies will not solve all of the schools financial problems board members indicated Unless there is an improvement in the tax collections for the last half of this year and for the first half of next year the board will be unable even with these drastic cuts to operate more than eight months next term school officials said

A list of 186 teachers reemployed for the 1932 33 school term was

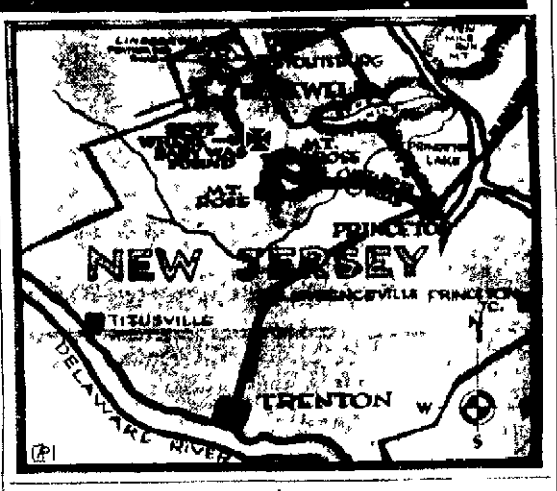
TELEPHOTO SHOWS SPOT WHERE CHILD'S BODY WAS FOUND

The Associated Press telephoto above at the right shows newspaper men and spectators looking at the spot in the woods near the Lindbergh estate where the body of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. was found yesterday. Below at the right is a map of the vicinity of Hopewell, N. J., showing the Lindbergh estate and the location of the woods where the kidnaped child was found dead. Above at the left is an International News photo of the kidnaping victim taken just a short time before his disappearance March 1.



FATHER GETS NEWS AT SEA

Lindbergh Attempting Contact with Kidnapers When Body Is Found.

By The Associated Press

HOPEWELL N J May 13—When the body of the kidnaped Lindbergh baby was found yesterday Colonel Charles A Lindbergh was on a boat off the Jersey shore at Cape May preparing to make another effort to contact the kidnapers at sea

Col H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of state police announced today that as soon as the body was found immediate steps were taken to communicate with Colonel Lindbergh who started back here as soon as the sad news was transmitted to him

Colonel Schwarzkopf did not say who was accompanying Col Lindbergh It was understood that John Hughes Curtis one of the Norfolk negotiators was with him Nor did Colonel Schwarzkopf say where Colonel Lindbergh had received the information that a contact might be made with the kidnapers off the Jersey shore

Statements were taken during the night from Curtis and Dr John F Condon the Jafsie of the case, and from a number of other persons purported to have information the police said

A considerable amount of information was obtained he added, and is being followed up at the present time

The police superintendent said as soon as Colonel Lindbergh announced the funeral arrangements a special bulletin would be issued

LINDBERGHS NOT TO SEE BODY OF CHILD

Parents To Remember Lost Son as Babe with Radiant Smile

By The Associated Press

TRENTON N J May 13—The broken little body of the eaglet will be laid away without his parents having seen it.

Anne and Charles Lindbergh will always remember their lost son as a handsome little chap with yellow curls and blue eyes and a radiant smile

Frank W Swayze the undertaker in charge of the body said today he had been informed that neither Colonel nor Mrs Lindbergh would see it

It will be placed in a sealed coffin before it is delivered to them he said He did not know when the burial would take place or what the funeral arrangements were

Police today held back a throng of strangers who loitered in the street outside the funeral establishment In the morgue at the rear the curtains were drawn

Of those whom he learned to know and trust in the few months that were his span of life, only his nurse, Betty Gow saw the body of little Charles Lindbergh

He used to call her "Gow."

LOU REICHERS HOPS ON U.S.-PARIS FLIGHT

Speed-Flier Leaves Harbor Grace with Dublin Next Proposed Stop; Weather Favorable.

By The Associated Press

HARBOR GRACE N F May 13 Lou Reichers hopped for Dublin Ireland at 6 50 a. m (Marion time) today after affecting repairs to his stabilizer, broken in landing on his hop from Newark N J to Harbor Grace

Lou Reichers

Harbor Grace was the Arlington N J speed flier's first scheduled stop on a three hop flight from Newark N J to Paris From Harbor Grace he proposed to fly to Dublin, Ireland where he will pick up a second supply of fuel and continue to Paris

It was at first believed that repairs to a stabilizer he had broken in landing would hold him here for several hours but mechanics began work on the broken part immediately and repairs were completed within two hours The plane was refueled in record time

Reichers made the hop from Newark N J to Harbor Grace in six hours and 22 minutes

The speed flier is attempting to halve the time of Colonel Lindbergh's non stop flight from New York to Paris in 1927 Reichers expected to make the flight in about 16 hours

The weather was considered favorable as Reichers headed his plane eastward and began the most perilous part of his journey The 550 gallons of fuel in the tanks of his machine was believed sufficient for 12 flying hours The aviator hoped to make 200 miles an hour

PRESIDENT FAVORS ARMY BUDGET CUT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON May 13—Representative Wood Republican of Indiana told newspapermen today that President Hoover is strongly in favor of at least a $24 000 000 cut in army appropriations The bill now is before the house

Standing in the White House lobby after a conference with the chief executive Wood said the President had been misrepresented and that he had just obtained permission to present Mr Hoover's views—

BABE'S DEATH IS SECOND TRAGEDY

By The Associated Press

HOPEWELL N J May 13—Double tragedy has come to Mrs Charles A Lindbergh in the last eight months

Last Oct 5 while she and Col Lindbergh were on an aerial trip to the Orient her father Senator Dwight W Morrow died

Despite the second blow—the finding of the body of her kidnaped son—Mrs Lindbergh, was described as bearing up with her "usual equanimity"

The courage of the young mother who is expecting another child within a few months, has been an inspiration to all about her, friends said

SEARCH NEVER MADE OF ISOLATED WOODS

Spot Believed Too Far Away To Yield Clues in Lindberg Kidnaping.

By The Associated Press

HOPEWELL, N J May 13—From Mount Rose near where the Lindbergh child was found slain one can gaze over wild woods in which foxes prowl and see the white Sourland estate of the flier about five miles away

The thicket near the roadside where the tiny body was tossed by murderers never was touched by the widespread search Apparently the isolated spot was considered too far away to yield any clue

Mount Rose a hamlet of a dozen houses is about a mile and a half from Hopewell

Coming from the Lindbergh home the kidnapers could have fled along a dirt road leading from the house across a paved highway running through Hopewell.

The body was found a short distance off the Princeton road, and between Mount Rose and Hopewell. This led authorities to believe the child was carried through Hopewell by his abductors.

Colonel Lindbergh drove over the road frequently in his journeys during the hunt for the child.

ACCOUNTS FOR SLEEPING SUIT

Dr Condon Tells Prosecutor Missing Article Given to Lindbergh

By The Associated Press

TRENTON Times today said Prosecutor Erwin L. Marshall in a conference last midnight with Dr John F Condon at the Lindbergh home was informed the sleeping suit missing from the Lindbergh baby's body had been turned over to him in the negotiations which resulted in the payment of $50 000 ransom money

The sleeping suit Dr Condon said is in the possession of Col Lindbergh

Two other bits of evidence supposedly establishing the authenticity of the alleged kidnaping group that dealt with Dr Condon also are in the possession of Col Lindbergh the paper said Dr Condon told the prosecutor They are two diaper pins A diaper which the baby wore when it was kidnaped is missing

Dr Condon told Prosecutor Marshall the Times said that early in the negotiations with the supposed kidnapers the diaper pins were sent to him to prove the men he was dealing with had actually stolen the baby In the final negotiations when the $50 000 ransom money was turned over the baby's sleeping suit was given as the final bit of evidence to the kidnapers identity.

A second conference of the Democrats failed to develop an absolute approval of the compromise. The special committee was delegated upon to go over the plan. Senator Robinson, the Democratic leader whose conference with President Hoover opened the way for a compromise, will serve as a member.

Hanging On

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., May 13—They were all just young recruits, told to hold on and they did Two met death because they had no hand hold, or no chance. The other did have one chance in a million and he took it.

Now we all want to hang onto him, like he hung on to the Akron. He flyes just 35 miles to the Ford files from my home. The glorious old state of Oklahoma, where a rope is not just an implement—it's a tradition.

Our history has been built on citizens dangling in the air by a rope and some escaped the dangling that would have made better history. But we are proud of this boy. Unlike his early ancestors he tied his own knots, and now that they weren't around his neck.

District Attorney Hints at Clue as Federal and State Authorities Join Forces To Speed Up Justice in Lindbergh Tragedy.

PRESIDENT ISSUES EMPHATIC ORDERS

Tells U. S. Sleuths Never To Cease Search; No One Under Direct Suspicion, State Official Says; "Intermediaries" Quizzed

By The Associated Press

HOPEWELL, N. J., May 13—The search for the kidnaped Lindbergh baby was at an end today—for the baby was dead

But the search for the slayers was intensified a thousand fold and by order of President Hoover will never be relaxed until the criminals are implacably brought to justice

The little body was found by mere chance near the Lindbergh home yesterday afternoon and, though little more than a skeleton, was definitely identified as that of the missing child

There was a wound above the high forehead and the skull had been broken by the murderers who stole the ailing child from its crib on the night of March 1.

Col Charles A Lindbergh and his wife, soon to become a mother for a second time, were secluded in their home today, their unfaltering hope brought to an end at last by the sad certainty of death

Pending completion of funeral plans the body of the baby remained at the undertaker's premises in Trenton where the autopsy was performed which made identification doubly sure

As President Hoover in Washington was ordering the federal law enforcement agencies to begin relentless and unending pursuit of the slayers state and county officials gathered in Trenton to plan concerted action to bring the criminals to justice

Among those at the conference were the attorney general of New Jersey, prosecuting officials of two counties in which the Lindbergh estate lies and Col H Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of state police who has had general charge of the investigation ever since the baby was kidnaped

The district attorney Erwin Marshall who will have jurisdiction because the body was found in Mercer county, although the kidnaping occurred in Hunterdon county indicated that an arrest might be expected though it might not be for several days

He said that no one was under suspicion at the present time and that Dr John F Condon who paid the useless $50 000 and John Hughes Curtis one of the Norfolk negotiators for the return of the baby were not under arrest Curtis and Dr Condon made statements last night and were examined verbally today

Marshall would not say what theory was favored by police as to motive for the brutal crime, but it was known authorities had under consideration one fact that would indicate that Dr Condon and Curtis had been in actual contact with the kidnapers

The baby's sleeping suit was missing when the body was found.

A description sent out immediately after the kidnaping said the child was wearing a white flannel sleeping suit—a garment that would cover him from neck to feet. Under it he wore a little flannel shirt his nurse had made and put on him late that afternoon to protect his chest and keep him from catching more cold

On the body yesterday there was no sleeping suit, only the soiled and tattered remnants of the little shirt and a flannel band around the waist

It has been reported several times that both Dr Condon and Norfolk intermediaries turned over to the Lindberghs an article of

"Jafsie" Released, Officer Reports

By The Associated Press

TRENTON, N. J., May 13.—District Attorney Erwin Marshall announced this afternoon that nothing had been found to implicate Dr. John F. Condon, the "Jafsie" of the search for the Lindbergh baby.

"He had been released and has gone back to New York," Marshall said.

PROMISES ALL POSSIBLE AID

Directs Federal Agencies To Be "Unceasingly Alert" in Hunt for Slayers.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON May 13—President Hoover today directed the law enforcement agencies and secret service of the federal government to set out upon a hunt for the murderers of the Lindbergh baby, never to be relaxed until those criminals are implacably brought to justice

The President employing strong language directed the federal police authorities to make the kidnaping and murder of the Lindbergh baby a live and never-to-be-forgotten case

The federal government does not have direct police authority in the present case he pointed out despite its brutality and the nationwide horror it has caused but federal agencies will be "unceasingly alert" to bring the murderers to punishment

Hoover Statement

The President issued the following statement

I have directed the law enforcement agencies and the several secret services of the federal government to make the kidnaping and murder of the Lindbergh baby a live and never-to-be-forgotten case, never to be relaxed until these criminals are implacably brought to justice

"The federal government does not have police authority in such crimes but its agencies will be unceasingly alert to assist the New Jersey police in every possible way until this end has been accomplished."

Handed to Press

The statement was handed to newspapermen early this morning by one of the President's secretaries

He read it aloud, slowly and with emphasis, before handing the brief lines over

The President, who has followed closely since the first night of the baby's disappearance the developments in the famous case was at his desk meanwhile.

Count Shows City, Rural Voters Differ in Choice

Although a majority of nominees for county offices won victories in both city and county precincts, the urban and rural totals were at odds in several contests, it was disclosed yesterday afternoon as the official count of votes progressed in the office of the board of elections.

Paul D. Naher owes his nomination as Democratic candidate for county recorder to the rural vote. His exciting race with L. T. Young, in which Naher and Young alternately took the lead as precincts reported Tuesday night, would have ended with Naher eight points behind if the matter had been left to city voters.

Stronger in County

Naher polled 820 votes in the city while Young received 828 city votes. By polling a plurality of 233 votes over Young in the rural precincts, Naher was victor. The rural vote was: Naher, 656; Young, 423.

Dr. J. W. Bull, Republican nominee for county coroner, was victorious in the city, but lost the rural vote by a margin of 85. The rural vote gave Bull 816, J. G. McNamara 791. The city vote gave Bull 1,516, McNamara 1,362 or a Bull plurality.

In the Republican contest for county commissioner, two to be nominated, the second choices of both the city and county voters were defeated. Both the city and county voters gave M. A. Virden a plurality, but Wesley M. King, second choice of the city voters, and H. Max Codding, second choice of county voters, were defeated by O. Ward Kinnamon, who was the third choice of both city and county voters. The county vote on the three high candidates follows: Virden, 1,582; Codding, 391; Kinnamon, 373. The city vote on the three high men was: Virden, 916; King, 869; Kinnamon, 859.

Run High in City

Leo J. Cusick and J. O. Weiss were high men by a comfortable margin in the city vote in the race for Democratic nomination as county commissioner, but Cusick lost heavily in the county, though not enough to interfere with his nomination. Cusick was fifth high in the county totals. Weiss was high man in both the city and county in the commissioner race.

Milton J. Morral, Republican nominee for representative, who overcame Harry A. Hoopes in the final total by a majority of 421 votes, lost the rural vote by 13 votes. The city vote gave Morral 1,525, Hoopes 1,091. In the county, Hoopes polled 651, Morral 638.

Official Bulletins Bring First Tidings of Tragedy

How the news was announced
By The Associated Press

I have sad news for you The Lindbergh baby has been found dead

In these words Gov A Harry Moore of New Jersey told an Associated Press reporter the first news of the tragic ending of the Lindbergh baby hunt

An hour later the official police announcement was made at the Lindbergh estate by Col H Norman Schwarzkopf head of the New Jersey state police Later Col Schwarzkopf issued additional statements definitely identifying the body as that of the missing infant and announcing that a group of persons was under suspicion

Following are the official announcements

TEXT OF FIRST BULLETIN

The first bulletin

We have to announce apparently the body of the Lindbergh baby was found at 2 15 p m (Thursday) William Allen a Negro was riding from Mount Rose N J to Hopewell with Orville Wilson on a truckload of timber They stopped the truck near a woods Mr Allen went into the woods on the Mount Rose hill in Mount Rose N J Going under a brush he lowered his head and as he raised a branch he saw a skeleton on the ground and a person's foot

He called back to Mr Wilson Mr Wilson ran into the woods saw what it was and decided to go to Hopewell to get police They notified Chief Wolf of the Hopewell police who notified these headquarters Inspector Walsh of Jersey City Sergt Moffett of the New York police Lieut Keaton of the New Jersey state police and a number of other detectives immediately went to the scene

"They reported finding the body of a child estimated to be between 1½ and 2 years old in a bad state of decomposition having blond hair and wearing what appeared to be an undershirt and a flannel band around the body

Not satisfied with this as identification the men sent back to Hopewell to the Lindbergh estate to get samples of the undershirt the baby wore and of the flannel shirt the baby had on the night of the kidnaping (March 1) This flannel shirt had an embroidered collar on it These articles were taken back to the scene and were compared with the clothing found on the body and were matched closely enough to afford an identification of the body as that of the Lindbergh baby

The statement of William Allen and Orville Wilson says that the body was pretty well concealed by leaves dirt and brush

"The skull had a hole in it about the size of a 25 cent piece above the forehead There apparently had been an attempt to bury the body face downward It was in a bad state of decomposition Mercer county coroner and the county physician were immediately called The physician is Dr Charles H Mitchell The coroner is Walter Swayze both of Trenton

The body was found about 75 yards off the road in woods

No Restraints Now

The second bulletin

As long as there was a possibility of the baby being alive the police have been acting with a certain amount of suppressed activity in order not to interfere with any negotiations that might result in the safe return of the baby

Now that the body of the baby has been found every possible effort will be used and all men necessary will immediately exercise every possible effort to accomplish the arrest of the kidnapers and murderers We have had under suspicion a group of persons suspected of being the kidnapers and immediate steps will be taken and are being taken to accomplish their arrest

Emergency telephone lines for this call are lying on the ground where they were placed by the telephone men within 75 feet of where the body was found

The third bulletin

A preliminary telephone report from the county physician indicates that a number of positively identifying characteristics have been discovered in the body found today which would identify it as being the body of the Lindbergh baby "Betty Gow (the baby's nursemaid) has positively identified the garments found on the body discovered today as being the garments in which the Lindbergh baby was clothed on the night of the kidnaping The sleeping suit was not on the baby but the two shirts on the body have been positively identified by Betty Gow Mrs Morrow and Mrs Lindbergh were at the Hopewell home when it became known today that the baby found was the Lindbergh baby

Colonel Lindbergh was immediately communicated with and is on his way to Hopewell now

The body was found on the left (southwest) side of the road going from Mount Rose to Hopewell More than 20 additional troopers were immediately ordered to duty upon the discovery of the facts which have come to life today Additional men are being detailed also

Information concerning the gang referred to is now being checked and such parts of this as will not interfere with the apprehension of the gang will be revealed in a later bulletin

The fourth bulletin of the night told of the identification of the body by Betty Gow the Lindbergh nurse of the investigations at the scene of the crime and of the imminent questioning of two men who have figured prominently in the case It was announced the next bulletin would be issued at 10 a m today

NEW DISCOVERIES CONFIRM VIRTUES OF BRAN IN DIET
Supplies "Bulk" and Vitamin B for Constipation. Also Iron for Blood

For ten years, now millions have found Kellogg's ALL-BRAN a safe pleasant way to overcome common constipation—with the headaches, loss of appetite and energy that so often result from this condition

Recent laboratory tests show that ALL-BRAN supplies 'bulk' to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract In addition, ALL BRAN contains twice as much blood building iron, by weight, as beef liver

This "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like the 'bulk' in lettuce Inside the body, it absorbs moisture and forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes

Special cooking processes make ALL-BRAN finer, softer, more palatable It is not habit forming

Think how much better it is to enjoy this delicious cereal than to take endless pills and drugs, which often lead to harmful habits.

Two tablespoonfuls daily—in serious cases with every meal—are usually sufficient If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream, or use in cooking Appetizing recipes on the red and-green package At all grocers Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek

PICKING NOMINEES FOR PRESIDENCY NOW NOT AS STRENUOUS AS IN EARLIER DAYS

National political conventions today are a far cry from the party gatherings of the 50's and 60's. The sketch at left depicts the Democratic convention of 1856 at Cincinnati when James Buchanan was nominated. Then the Benton delegates from Missouri had to knock down the doorkeepers to get in the hall. At right is shown a modern day Democratic convention, which is a modest affair in comparison.

This is the first of a series of eight articles recounting highlights of political conventions of the past. They trace convention history from the 1850's to the present. This series has been prepared by The Associated Press as a forerunner to the National Republican and Democratic conventions scheduled for next month.

BY ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, May 13—What issues, what names will resound in the convention halls of the Democratic and Republican parties this year? What drama will be enacted during this, the twentieth meeting of the nation's two strongest political forces?

Bowie knives and pistols probably will not be flourished as they were in 1856 when the Democrats in Cincinnati nominated James Buchanan of Pennsylvania on the seventeenth ballot, and probably no delegates will have to knock down the doorkeepers to enter the convention hall as did the Benton delegates from Missouri at that Cincinnati convention.

Buchanan Wins

In the 1856 campaign the newly formed Republican party chose General John Fremont, while ex-President Millard Fillmore was the candidate of the "Know-Nothings," opposed to "romanism" and foreign influence. Buchanan was elected.

Then as the war god began to survey a boundary line across the middle of the United States on which to paint a streak of blood came the conventions of 1860, and with them the name of Abraham Lincoln.

The raid of John Brown, his execution for treason and overt acts of violence had fanned the flames of sectional hostility over slavery to a point where feeble attempts by conciliators to extinguish them were unavailing.

The word "secession" was in many mouths. Both controlling the enmity that boiled under the surface.

In April of 1860 the Democrats convened at Charleston, "seat of secession." Southern oratory was in full flower. The Italian opera "afforded nightly treats for the cognoscenti of the convention, and Gilmore's band from Boston played for the promenaders at the battery who looked out upon a soft blue sea."

Northern and southern Democrats could not agree on a slavery plank in the platform, and the southerners withdrew. Later at Baltimore Stephen Douglas of Illinois was nominated. More southern states withdrew and nominated John C. Breckinridge of Kentucky. A group of moderates nominated John Bell of Tennessee.

Triumph Over Politicians Hailed

The Republicans nominated Lincoln over Seward, a victory hailed by the northern press as a triumph of the people over the politicians.

Animosity increased, and as the breach grew larger Republican power increased. Lincoln received a large majority of electoral votes. The day before he was elected New York papers printed bulletins saying South Carolina would secede.

War came. It raged for three years, and then another campaign was on. Attacks on Presidents of recent years have been no more savage than those made upon Lincoln. Some Washington correspondents professed to see a tyrannical tendency in Lincoln's frequent reading of books about Napoleon.

He also was criticised for extravagance in the alleged purchase of a 14-wheeled cart at a cost of $60,000.

But when the Republicans met, Connecticut sang the theme song: "Connecticut gives her 33 votes for that pure and patriotic statesman, Abraham Lincoln." He was elected on the first ballot.

The Democratic candidates, Douglas and George B. McClellan, were named officers, in a grievous state-

ing the war to be a failure, a platform which McClellan himself repudiated. The South, of course, was out of the 1864 race because of the war.

The Democratic platform said that "public welfare demands immediate efforts for a cessation of hostilities with a view to a convention of the states to the end that peace may be restored at the earliest possible moment."

But Lincoln won with 2,330,552 votes; McClelland received 1,835,985 votes.

MAN, 28, CLAIMED AT RICHWOOD HOME

RICHWOOD, May 13—Wilton Hartley, 28, died this morning at his home here. He was born May 13, 1904, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fleb Hartley. The parents survive.

The funeral will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. in the home with Rev. B. F. McKinnon in charge. Burial will be made in Bethlehem cemetery.

PIERCE-ARROW comes to MARION with an unusual exhibit of fine cars . . . brilliant new modes and new values . . . for a brief but important showing

TWO DAYS ONLY, MAY 14th. and 15th.

THERE is an agreeable surprise back of this announcement for scores of people who have always thought of Pierce-Arrow in terms of $4000 or $5000.

The fact is, as brilliantly demonstrated in this presentation, Pierce-Arrow ownership is today an easily achieved distinction.

So, if you admire fine cars, you are urged to see the new Pierce-Arrow Twelves and Eights and ride in them—without the least obligation.

If you are a fine car owner, you will doubtless be personally asked to pass judgment on these latest expressions of beauty and luxury in motor cars.

The purchasing power of today's dollar, where the finer things are concerned, has never been more dramatically revealed than in this distinguished exhibit.

A famed engineer recently said: "Pierce-Arrow has this year contributed the most remarkable expression of fine car value, and the most wonderfully performing cars I have ever seen."

You are cordially invited to form your own opinion—at your earliest convenience.

The special Pierce-Arrow exhibit will be open evenings until ten but something shrewd behind the smile. Jenny had the impression that he was feeling his way it occurred to her also that, like the Old Man he might not believe the tale she told but that he would be satisfied if the telling bore scrutiny.

"No flaw at all" she answered as casually as she could. "Perhaps you remember I told you that George wasn't specially interested in Eddie. And you're quite right about the job. Georgie is determined to keep it at any cost."

The last was so true that she had uttered it almost vehemently and she felt him shoot a quick glance at her. She added somewhat hastily:

"What other questions do you want to ask?"

"Where — and how — poor old Townsend is?" I hear he went through the windshield."

That didn't really matter, said Jenny with unconscious humor. "The real damage was done to his nerves. He has quite broken down, and it's doubtful whether he will ever be a bird man again. At any rate he will have to have a long holiday."

Vale seemed sincerely concerned. He drove easily along talking as easily of cures and treatments and cases he had known where recovery had been miraculously prompt and even more miraculous ly permanent.

Er—where did you say he was now?" he interjected.

He made me promise not to tell any one," answered Jenny firmly. She had been prepared for this. He has a terror of seeing any one for the time being and so he has gone into hiding as you might call it." She laughed a pleasant firm laugh. "I shan't let him out until he is absolutely himself again."

I see. Very wise. Good job he has got you to look after him." But Vale sounded dubious. "Do you know a man called Tallas a doctor?"

He gave Eddie first aid just after the accident. And he brought him up from the hospital today. Why do you ask?"

Oh, well I know him slightly. As a matter of fact I came across him an hour or so ago and he stopped me. Apparently he's heard I knew you and Georgie. He talked a bit—he's an odd sort of fellow. Bit of a gossip. Inquisitive I should say."

Jenny considered this in silence. Was it a warning?

If Ryder Vale were warning her what could she do to avert the danger of Tallas' investigations? She decided that she could do nothing but she felt grateful to Vale for his hint and grateful to him too for accepting a version of the facts which as she instinctively felt he did not believe. She sighed. Apparently it was not nearly so simple as it had seemed. this making people think you had married Eddie Townsend when you hadn't.

You're all alone in that apartment" queried Vale cocking an eyebrow at it as he drew up gently before its door.

Yes. Jenny hoped that he would not suggest coming up. Her head was beginning to ache.

Then why not come for a run?" he invited. "Come and have a saucer of cream somewhere. It'll take your mind off—things."

She had fully meant to decline when he began to speak but his voice sounded genuinely friendly and she wavered. The empty apartment with its unfinished chores suddenly repelled her.

I—I should like it. But I must be back by—well by 6."

Six it shall be. Any place you'd like to go to? No? What about an inn at a little place up the river? It's what they call an old world place. Like old world places."

Yes. Jenny liked them. She liked also settling back in this jolly little car and not having to make conversation. It rather surprised her Ryder Vale did not want her to talk to him. He had struck her as a man who would prefer a ripple of absurdities to nothing at all. However he appeared to be preoccupied and she could rest. She watched the traffic idly and idly looked for the first gleam of the river.

"Fraid I'm a dull dog today," he said finally. "Must be the heat. I can't remember a hotter August. There's the inn."

Jenny descended into a courtyard full of white geraniums and cool green smilax trails. All along one side ran a tea room with windows thrown wide to the air and electric fans humming. It looked cool and attractive and there was a table vacant near a window. She walked in and took possession. Slipping the little coat from her shoulders on to the back of the chair she glanced round.

Facing her directly in line with another window at the opposite end of the room sat Garth Avenel.

"Heart of a Wife"

—BY ADELE GARRISON—

Lillian Learning That the Girls Driven Away by a Stranger Wore Red Coats Decideas They Were Not Marion and Carolyn.

HARRY UNDERWOOD stirred (never so slightly) as Dr. Barnes put his last question to Rose the maid who had brought to him the story of the two Whitney Hall girls entering the automobile. I knew what that movement meant. It was but the outward symbol of the restlessness that was consuming not only Harry but Dicky, Lillian and myself at this questioning.

Not that the astute head of Whitney Hall was not bringing out facts which we needed. Indeed he was questioning the girl with the skill learned from long years of association with school girls used to every trick and excuse and evasion for girlish derelictions of omission and commission.

But the rest of us had been trained in a sterner school. Harry Underwood was especially skilled in any kind of investigation. Dicky always said of him that old Harry had Sherlock and the rest of the boys nailed to the cross when it came to super sleuthing.

What Was the Answer"

What did he say to that?" Dr. Barnes repeated as Rose hesitated again in her tale of the comment made by her neighbor upon an occurrence he had witnessed.

He said he knew by the cut of their jib they were Whitney Hall girls," she said, "but I don't believe they were, and I told him so. I wouldn't have said anything—you know, looking at Mrs. Barnes, you told us never discuss Whitney Hall affairs with anybody, but I thought because——" Her voice trailed off and Mrs. Barnes spoke quickly, encouragingly.

You did exactly right Rose this time. Thank you for coming to us so promptly.

Would you like to ask Rose any questions?" Dr. Barnes turned toward us.

Harry Underwood was prompt in response.

Did this man say how these girls he saw were dressed?" he asked.

He said they were red coats," Rose answered.

Lillian gave a little gasp of relief and one could almost feel the loosening of the tension in the room.

Neither Marion nor Carolyn has a red coat," she said.

One of the first things we did Dr. Barnes commented was to get a minute account of how each girl was dressed from those of their mates who last saw them. Both girls were wearing cloth coats of Scotch plaid pattern.

But Lillian said in puzzled tones Marion has no plaid coat. Of course I do not know what Helena may have bought for Carolyn."

Lillian Is Relieved

This makes it pretty clear that the girls were not the ones Rose's neighbor saw get into the car" said Dr. Barnes. You are sure Rose that he said those girls had red coats?"

That's what he said. Rose answered and Dr. Barnes leaned back as if satisfied on that point.

A sudden disturbing thought came to me which was so fanciful and far fetched that I hesitated to utter it. Then a chance look at Lillian's face showed me so much relief at Dr. Barnes' pronouncement that the red-coated girls who had climbed into the stranger's car could not have been Marion and Carolyn that at this juncture I could not disturb her with a doubt of his conclusion. But I tucked a question into the back of my mind to which I resolved to get an answer at the first opportunity I had to get away from Lillian.

Do you mind telling me the man's name Rose?" Harry Underwood asked gently.

The girl's eyes went affrightedly to Dr. Barnes' face.

He'd be awful mad at me she said if he thought I'd blabbed what he said up here."

You don't understand Rose Mr. Underwood said. No one of us here is going to talk to him and he will never know that the man who will talk to him has any connection with any of us here. If you keep quiet yourself he will never dream that you have told anyone about what you said to him. But I would like to know his name and address and where he works.

Tell him Rose Dr. Barnes commanded.

His name is Alfred Jenkins" Rose said reluctantly. He works on that big dairy farm of Cokes and he lives next door to me."

Thank you Mr. Underwood said and then turned to Dr. Barnes.

That is all I wish to ask her" he said and I am sure the rest of us agree that she need not be bothered any longer.

We caught his cue and nodded assent when the girl at a word from Dr. Barnes had gone out of the room. Mrs. Barnes had followed her, but with the evident purpose of cautioning her again against speech of any sort concerning the girl's disappearance. Harry Underwood now spoke quickly decisively.

There's no need to question her any further. She's scared to death as it is. But you can tell me can you not, the approximate business and home addresses of this Jenkins?"

Of course" Dr. Barnes said with alacrity. "If he lives next door to Rose the address is this." He wrote it on a small pad tore off the paper and handed it over. "I can give you full instructions how to find the dairy. Will you pardon the curiosity that prompts a query as to how you are going to manage this without exciting the man's suspicion?"

GASCO CLUB THUMPS ERIE MECHANICS 4-2 IN INDUSTRIAL TILT

Eagles Win from Huber, 8-2, C, D & M, Excavator-Alloy Both Winners

The Gasco club softball team served notice in one of the four Industrial league softball league openers yesterday afternoon that it was not to be taken lightly when it comes to figuring possible pennant winners for the 1932 season. The Ohio Fuel Gas company combine took things easy for four innings against the Erie Mechanics then put on a four run scoring spree that slipped the skids under the railroaders to the tune of a 4 2 count. In three other games yesterday the Eagles handed the Huber company nine its first defeat of the season 8 2 the Excavator Alloy turned in a 4 1 victory over the Augenstein A C and the C, D & M defending champions won from the Marion Steam shovel A A by a 6-4 score.

The Gasco club went along peaceably enough for four innings of the game with the Erie Freddie Vestal the Erie's new mound recruit give up only three hits in the opening four innings but more than one coming in any frame. Meanwhile the railroaders had jumped on Eddie Mautz for a single run in the first and were holding the lead in good style.

In the Gasco half of the fifth things began to happen. The Gassers trained their heavy artillery on Vestal and nicked him for enough hits to drive four runs across the plate. The attack ceased as suddenly as it had started but the damage had been done.

The Erie launched what threatened to be a big rally in the sixth frame but Eddie Mautz after allowing the first man to face him in the inning to score turned on the steam and retired three batters in order. Mautz allowed the railroaders a total of four hits while the winners combed Vestal for seven safeties.

No box scores were kept of any of the other three games.

The final one of the four city softball leagues is scheduled to commence competition today when the night members of the Commercial circuit clash in a quartet of contests.

The Serv-U-Wel Grocers battle with the Kappas at Garfield park will headline the days schedule. The Kappas are defending champions and the Grocers are figured as contenders for the league title this season. The Presbyterian A C team will take on the Prospect Firemen at Lincoln park. The Erie Traffic club is slated to collide with the K of P nine at Harding field and the Masons will meet the St Paul Episcopal nine at the Shovel athletic field. The K of P Traffic club game is expected to be a hard fought contest.

TRI-COUNTY LEAGUE WILL OPEN SUNDAY

The Tri county baseball league will launch the 1932 season Sunday with a trio of games. Six teams are now included on the league's roster but it is expected that two more will be added with in a short time.

The first day's schedule calls for the Thompson A C team to play Essex at Essex Mortal to play at Agosta and Owen Billiards to play Haughn's team at the silk mill diamond here. The Owen Billiard are managed by Red Owen and Haughn is pilot of the team bearing his name.

COUNTY LOOP TEAMS TO CLASH SATURDAY

Five Games Scheduled as League Men's in Second Round of Play.

Ten members of the Marion county softball league will renew competition Saturday afternoon of this week in a quintet of games billed for various places throughout the county. The league opened its second season last Saturday afternoon in an auspicious manner and apparently is on the way to an even more successful season than that last summer.

Two of the teams which survived the first contest unbeaten will clash when Waldo entertains Green Camp. Waldo took the measure of Green Camp 10 to 0 in the first encounter and Green Camp beat Meeker 1-0.

Either Agosta or Meeker will be added to the win column for the first time this week as they oppose each other at Meeker. Ago is host to Prospect last Saturday 13 1.

The third game of the South division will match Pleasant and Prospect at Prospect. Pleasant will be trying hard to make up for the one run a check in the first and Prospect is hoping to stay in the lead for undisputed.

In the North division of the circuit Caledonia and Morral will cross bats at Morral and Kirkpatrick will invade the Children's home for a tilt with that institution called the wrecking crew. The Children's home lost last week at Kirkpatrick's cut but handed Morral.

Call the Police! Reed To Meet Vangler Again

Ambulance May Be Needed Too, as Former Olympic Star Places Title on Block, 2 500 Expected To See Battle Monday.

It hasn't been so very long since approximately 2 500 members of the Marion chapter of the Fraternal Order society jammed the entire floor of the Marion Steam gym to see a couple of fine specimens everything but club each other across the corner posts of the ring. They went about their business of settling the winner in a two hour time limit two falls to win and if it is quite probable they would have used the corner posts had they been able to get them loose from their moorings.

The two boys who raised all the rumpus—and what a rumpus it was—are Robin Reed and Sammy Vangler. Reed is the welterweight champion of the midwest. If won the titleholder before he met Vangler, still is for that matter but that doesn't change the fact that Reed isn't one whit more proficient in the eyes of Marion mat fans than Vangler.

Everything Goes

When Vangler and Reed met in the fore there were no holds barred. Anything was allowed to go and anything did go.

Reed won the match or rather the match was given to him when Vangler insisted on using the strangle hold against the ring side orders of the Marion boxing commission. Robin Reed was declared the winner when Vangler took the first fall of the match with such a hold.

After the examination then decided it was not the thing to allow such a hold and promptly ordered it barred the ash can or wherever holds are tossed.

Vangler promptly, as the comics say, ignored the hold taboo. When he forgot the announcement and continued to give Reed a terrific beating the illegal strangle hold finally ending the principal means of attack. Just when Reed was apparently on the verge of being counted out Vangler was declared the loser on a foul. Where the seven 2500 fans gave vent to decidedly uncomplimentary remarks concerning the disqualification and set up a howl for a return match.

Coming Again

Many a fight the return melee will be held and from advance dope it will be none the less interesting because the strangle hold is barred. That is the only thing which will not be allowed and probably the only thing which will not be used. Neither Vangler nor Reed has any particular feeling of love for the other and both are putting on the war paint for the Monday match. Preparations are being made for one of the biggest crowds ever to see a mat conflict in the West side gym.

In the semi final battle of 45 minutes duration Gordon Arquette of Columbus Yaqui Indian will clash with Larry Straub an up and coming welterweight of Columbus.

In the preliminary bout of the program Pete Dando and Earl Hissen both of Columbus will meet.

BROOKLYN CAPTURES SERIES OPENER FROM CINCINNATI REBS, 5-2

Jess Haines Hurls Cardinals to 8-2 Win Over Philadelphia

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bill McKechnie's Boston Braves may not win the National league flag this year, but they promise to establish a lasting record for demoralizing the opposition.

In 22 games the battling Bostonians have been helped along by 48 opponents' errors.

The Giants have suffered most of the jinx. In six engagements with the Braves they committed 17 bobbles.

Now come the league leading Chicago Cubs with a threat to surpass anything previously done. Facing Boston for the first time yesterday they managed to compile seven errors more than enough to give the Braves an 8 to 3 victory behind Ed Brandt.

The Brooklyn Dodgers went on the blood in their long awaited series with Cincinnati 5 to 2 as Burleigh Phelps hurled scoreless ball after the first inning.

Jess Haines made his first start of the year for the St Louis Cardinals and beat the Phillies 5 to 2.

The Giants opener at Pittsburgh was rained out, and only one other American league engagement escaped the elements. Cleveland nosed out the Boston Red Sox 5 to 4.

GRAIN PRICES TEND LOWER

Reduction in Values Parallels Action of Stock Shares.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 13—Parallel reduction of the stock market, grain prices tended downward early today. Relative firmness of Liverpool wheat quotations failed to act as a counterbalance. Opening unchanged to ⅝@¾ lower, wheat afterward sagged all around. Corn started unchanged to ¼ off and subsequently held near the initial limits.

Steadying after fractional declines, the wheat market responded somewhat to reports that selling from the southern hemisphere was less aggressive, and that surplus supplies both in Argentina and Australia were below normal. It was also emphasized that Europeans needed foodstuffs, and that United States wheat was selling abroad on a competitive basis with wheat from south of the equator.

Latest advices put the total southern hemisphere wheat surplus at less than 151,000,000 bushels. In this connection, estimates were current that weekly exports of only 3,750,000 bushels to Jan. 1, from Argentina and Australia would mean complete exhaustion of supplies. Contrasting with this was the fact that so far this season Argentina and Australia have averaged 5,000,000 to 9,000,000 bushels of wheat exports weekly, and that available supplies of wheat in the United States are decreasing more rapidly than last year. Corn and oats fluctuated narrowly with wheat.

CLIFFORD KING, 20, ENDS LIFE TODAY

Marion Youth Shoots Self Through Heart; Cause of Act Unknown.

Clifford King, 20, of 244 South Grand avenue, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. King, killed himself at his home early this afternoon.

He shot himself through the heart with a .410 gauge shotgun.

Although he had been in ill health for some time, the motive for his suicide is a mystery to his relatives. He left no note nor gave any indication as to what might have prompted the act.

King was born Dec. 26, 1901 in Marion to Horace Clifford and Mertle Perry King, both natives of Adams county. He was preceded in death by one brother, John Paul King. Surviving with his parents are his sisters, Mrs. Norris E. Crissinger of Mt. Vernon avenue, Mrs. Scott Apt and Mrs. Ruth Gwilym at home and Mrs. Arden Milliser of Bexley avenue, Vernon Heights.

Funeral arrangements have not been made. Burial will be made in Marion cemetery. The body will remain at the Schaffner-Queen funeral home on East Center street tonight.

The Lindbergh Child To Help the Idle They Also Serve Work for 15 000

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

TEN MINUTES before it was written at 6 1 yesterday afternoon the city editor brought in word that reporters had been invited to come to Hopewell C L Lindbergh's residence

And at this moment an Associated Press bulletin will be announcement that the Lindbergh child has been found dead or more dreadfully than could be imagined nothing that could produce so great a horror of the depths of criminality to which this nation has been reduced

YET THE DREADFUL end of a horrible tragedy will be for the unhappy parents almost a relief from the uncertainty the constant wondering and worrying about the child by day and in the dead of night It means the end of an agony that has lasted weeks after week for so long

It means above all that the little boy is forever beyond the reach of man's hideous brutality His spirit is set free nothing can ever harm him now His parents must find what comfort they can in that thought and in the profound sympathy and affection of an entire nation

The information given out by the governor of New Jersey is meager at this hour only that the child's body was found near the estate How long ago the death occurred is not stated What happened can only be surmised that the crime was that of an insane person too It was an act of revenge which is inconceivable that the child died or was killed somewhere and brought back to present detection A thousand theories are discussed

But one blessed fact is established The child is safe at last It is not in brutal hands crying for its mother And she knows that her baby is beyond the reach of harm or suffering mercifully released from danger forever She can think of the little soul at rest the beautiful face as she used to see it And the child will be remembered as chosen by her and taken from reach of her loving sight and prayers

SENATOR ROBINSON suggests a relief of two billions to take care of the idle The President is said to favor the whole way and a five billion fund asked by W P Hearst is considered This is not a time to make two cuts of a cherry The money to be handed to city governments must be spent for the relief of the organization Many skilled kinds might be selected for a fund that would pay for projects when completed such as the Holland tunnel under the North river built by New Jersey and New York that earns millions a year and many other public enterprises highly profitable

A HORSE CALLED DOC died today owned by E R Squibb & Sons You never heard of him no tracks never saw him he lived and died in his stable supplying serum to prevent diphtheria enough to protect 41 000 children Perhaps he will have in the heaven for horses as good a place as that reserved for Alexander's prancing Bucephalus Mohammed's milk white Alborak or the univirous Rosinante

They also serve who only stand and wait.

THE GOVERNMENT having set aside money to provide employment while helping judicious undertakings ought to lend to the Pennsylvania railroad the fifty five million dollars needed to complete the electrification of its lines between New York and Washington

Millions have already been spent on the work which may be stopped through no fault of the Pennsylvania railroad Its management could not imagine what a depression was coming The loan that the Pennsylvania requests would be useful to the whole country employ 15 000 men more than two years create orders for 65 000 tons of steel many million pounds of copper

It would involve more than one hundred electric passenger locomotives and much other equipment Since the government has the money to lend and the Pennsylvania can give perfectly good security why not make the loan and let the 15 000 men work? If that is not practical what is?

"IF ☆ YOU'RE TOUGH ON A CAR AND HAVEN'T THE TIME TO PET IT I recommend Oldsmobile"

OIL TEMPERATURE REGULATOR: One of the most important features contributing to the exceptional endurance of Oldsmobile engines is the oil temperature regulator. This device keeps the oil at the best lubricating temperature, summer and winter, assuring a free-flowing, full bodied film of oil that prolongs the life of all bearing surfaces.

OLDSMOBILE owners will tell you that their cars provide the one thing to be desired above all others—deep-seated satisfaction. In fact, so stoutly do owners champion Oldsmobile that it is known as "the car that owners recommend to their friends." Therein lies the one sure guide to safe selection of your motor car For the acid test of an automobile's worth is its record in owners' hands—its capacity for giving satisfaction through months and miles of driving. How well Oldsmobile passes this test is proved by the impressive proportion of Oldsmobile sales directly traceable to owners' recommendations. The Oldsmobile Six and Straight Eight bring you the most modern features at appealingly moderate prices. Let us demonstrate Oldsmobile to you at your convenience

☆ This statement is typical of comments made in many of the hundreds of owners' letters on file at the Oldsmobile offices

GRAIN PRICES TEND LOWER

Reduction in Values Parallels Action of Stock Shares

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO May 13—Pace of the stock market again tended downward early today Relative firmness of Liverpool wheat quotations failed to act as a counterbalance Opening unchanged to ¼ lower wheat afterward sagged all around Corn soared unchanged to ¼ off and subsequently held near the initial limits

Steadying after fractional declines the wheat market responded somewhat to reports that selling from the southern hemisphere was less aggressive and that surplus offers from Argentina and Australia were below normal It was also emphasized that Europeans needed foodstuffs and that United States wheat was selling abroad on a competitive basis with wheat from south of the equator

Latest advices put the total southern hemisphere wheat surplus at less than 151 000 000 bushels In this connection estimates were current pending weekly exports of only 3 000 000 bushels to Jan 1 from Argentina and Australia would mean corn plete exhaustion of supplies Contrasting with this was the fact that so far this season Argentina and Australia have exported 8 000 000 to 9 000 000 bushels of wheat exports weekly and that available supplies of wheat in the United States are decreasing more rapidly than last year Corn and oats fluctuated narrowly with wheat

CITY CLEANING PLANS PROGRESS RAPIDLY

Barrels and Boxes of Rubbish Appear Along Curb as Annual Drive Nears

Interest in the annual cleanup campaign planned by the city for next week was being shown today by the appearance of barrels and baskets of rubbish along the curbs in various parts of the city. Calls have been received by the city garbage department from many residents requesting trucks to haul away rubbish.

Service Director E O Uncapher said this morning he would have plenty of wagons available next week for hauling rubbish. A charge of 10 cents will be made for baskets and 25 cents for barrels for those who are not subscribers to the garbage service. The service director has asked that those having rubbish to be removed place it in containers along the curb and call either the garbage collection department or some other licensed collector.

Collectors for the city he said would be supplied with receipt books and he requests that any using the city trucks ask for a receipt for the amount of money they pay.

A proclamation asking the cooperation of the citizens in the annual cleanup paintup campaign was issued by Mayor W C Phillians Tuesday.

PROBE BLAST CAUSE IN DEATH OF SIX

Explosion in Ohio Factory Takes Death Toll Building Wrecked

By The Associated Press

FRANKLIN, O, May 13—Seeking to learn the cause of an explosion which late yesterday killed six men injured eight others and destroyed the part of the Chesney Pulp & Paper Co in which it occurred, an inquest was opened here today.

The cause of the explosion which reduced a two story brick building to ruins and shook shops for blocks around was not yet attributed to too much steam in a pressure in a rotary digester.

In the cooker and other apparatus were cooked for manufacture into pulp.

Four men were killed instantly. They were Sam Chapman 47 and his son Richard 24, Jim Young 55 and Finley Couch 30. Sam Hawthorne 40 died en route to a hospital and Preston Young, 20 died late last night.

The critically injured are George Carpenter 42, Glenn Cook 19 and Frank Gray.

Howard Cheney, owner of the plant estimated his loss at $125,000.

Bowles who was on the second floor said the blast was preceded by a rumbling sound. Then he said the entire structure seemed to be lifted into the air. It came down in a mass of crumbling concrete and brick burying the victims.

PARENTS' COMFORT ASKED IN PRAYER

Chaplain Invokes Divine Sympathy in Opening House Session

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 13—Before the house went to work today it heard a prayer by its chaplain, the Rev James Shera Montgomery asking comfort for Col and Mrs Charles A Lindbergh.

"O thou eternal God," it went, "our words falter as the shadows of the nation's sorrow fall and deepen.

"Yonder home today is a world shrine at whose foot stool we tarry. The night winds of sorrow murmur as tears fall and sink on the curls of gold matted and damp.

"Merciful Father may the parents be fed no longer with the bread of affliction do thou give them rest which the world can nevermore defile.

"Consider and hear us O Lord Ours is national humiliation as we vision the depths of this infamy.

"Arouse the public conscience that a slight atonement may be made by smiting murderers and outlaws into the dust.

"Cleanse the alleries of our whole country where hired and swarm the filth and crime of our national household.

"Almighty God lift us up let us see lead us O hear us for Thy mercy's sake.

"Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

INDUSTRIAL VITAMIN PRODUCTION NEARER

British Scientists Make New Discoveries with Light Rays.

Copyright, 1932
By The Associated Press

CAMBRIDGE, Eng, May 13—Industrial production of the four famous vitamins A, B, C and D was believed to have been brought much nearer today by the announcement of a series of discoveries by two young British scientists, Dr F E Bowden and Dr C H Snow of Cambridge university.

In making the announcement, Bowden and Snow said they had evidence indicating they had produced vitamin from a substance in the carotene by treating it with ultra violet rays.

(Carotene is described as a reddish substance found in carrots which gives them their character color.)

They also have evidence they said that they have succeeded in identifying that part of the molecule of vitamin D which is responsible for its biological effects.

R I Ireland president of the Ohio Coal Operators association in announcing the plan last night said the mines would resume operations as soon as market conditions permit and that there would be no discrimination against miners involved in the fight.

Chief item in the agreement between the operators is a uniform wage scale.

The uniform scale to be offered the miners will be: Seven cents per ton for cutting with breast machines, six cents a ton for short wall machines, 3½ cents a ton for hand loading, $3.20 per eight hour day maximum inside wage.

Operators yesterday ignored a call from the United Mine Workers of America to meet in Columbus for a discussion of plans to end the strike.

They will be equipped with wind wheels with a diameter of 540 feet.

Only 60 "air power plants" of this type, together with the now existing water power plants, will suffice to meet the German electricity consumption of 20,000,000 kilowatts and make possible a reduced price of two-tenths cents a kilowatt against 5 cents now.

LAST NIGHT IN THE THEA. ..

"POLICE COURT"

AT OHIO THEATER

Henry B. Walthall gives a fine performance in a fair picture, "Police Court," which will close Saturday at the Ohio. On the stage are three children, the Durham trio, who entertain with old-time songs interspersed with dances of a period to fit the songs. Leon Janney plays the son of Walthall in the picture. The father, once a star of the first magnitude in Hollywood, is down and out because of drink, and fails at each attempt to play even a small role. Janney is given a star role in a picture "Father and Son," but his acting is half-hearted. He wants his father, serving a sentence in jail for drunkenness, to play the role of father. The efforts of the son and Aileen Pringle, a star and an old friend of Walthall, get him a parole and he plays the part, coming from the jail hospital ward to redeem himself in his son's eyes. He gives so much to the final scene in the picture, that his heart fails and he dies. The picture was independently produced. Among the Hollywood scenes is a "first night" at Grauman's famous Chinese theater. An S. S. Van Dine short and newsreel are on the bill. H. H.

Sealer Lists "Dont's" To Aid Housewives Balance Budgets

By United Press

CHICAGO—Expert aid for the housewives' budgets was offered by Joe Grein, colorful city sealer, who offered a list of "don'ts" for their guidance. By protecting themselves against dishonest coal and food merchants, Grein says, they may save a considerable portion of their allowance.

His don'ts:

Don't gossip with your merchant until you are sure he won't cheat, while he is distracting your attention.

Don't be afraid or ashamed, to examine the scales to make sure they are correct.

Don't buy over the scales unless the pointer is at zero; then see that the pointer comes to a rest when the weight is taken.

If you buy coal by the bushel basket, don't accept it until you make sure the basket hasn't a false bottom.

Don't accept larger orders of coal until you receive the weight ticket properly signed and stamped with the weighmaster's seal before unloading.

Don't allow merchants to use liquid measures for measuring dry commodities, such as fruits and vegetables.

Don't buy commodities measured in dented measures.

Don't allow the merchant to give you a package of flour, unless he reweighs it in your presence.

Don't buy "10 cents worth of this or 25 cents worth of that," or a bag, or a basket, or bucketfull; these terms mean nothing in law. Buy a known weight or measure.

CHICAGO CITIZENS KEEP UP LIBRARY

Donate Books and Newspapers As Finances Run Low

By International News Service

CHICAGO—An important aspect of Chicago's financial distress is the fact that there is no money to purchase new books and periodicals for the public library.

As a result, a number of citizens are performing a service reminiscent of the days of Lincoln. They are giving their own volumes or magazines to the library.

"While we are glad to accept any donation," said Carl B. Roden, librarian, "not all of the material is usable and we must reserve the right to pass on some of it to the shelters for the unemployed.

"There has been no concerted effort so far to supply the library with new books and magazines, but numerous individuals, especially in the neighborhood of branch libraries, have been donating copies so that hundreds of readers will not be disappointed each month.

"Subscriptions to 800 different magazines and 100 newspapers from all the major cities in American and Europe were cancelled the first of the year to effect an annual saving of approximately $6,500. The only way we have of getting these periodicals is through private donations."

Chicago newspaper publishers are making the library gifts of their papers so that the files will be complete.

PRISONER HAPPY IN PEN; FEELS SAFER

Stone Walls Remove Fear of Murder for Chinese Convict.

By United Press

SANTA FE—In the brick yard of the New Mexico state penitentiary works a nationally-famous Chinese, Woo Dak Son, wizened little killer, happy for the first time in five years, acutely aware he is safer in prison than out.

Woo killed Yee Fong, member of a rival tong, at Silver City five years ago and Yee's tong would kill Woo if he were released, prison authorities say. The tong hired a skilled attorney to help prosecute Woo and obtain a death sentence.

The dread prospect of execution so frightened Woo that he offered himself for inoculation to a group of scientists seeking a remedy for trachoma if they would have his death sentence commuted. The inoculation might have been fatal, but Woo said he would rather die that way than in the electric chair.

His offer attracted international notice. Sociologists argued whether it would be better to accept it, or throw away the chance of scientific progress that might be made by the inoculation.

Tong enemies of Woo were credited with having the argument settled against acceptance of the offer. Woo was put in the death dungeon.

He's out in the fresh air of the spacious brick yard now, however, after commutation of his sentence to life imprisonment. It's a long sentence, but it suits Woo.

BOARD OF EDUCATION MAKES EXPENSE CUT

Economy Plans Discussed; Will Reduce Salaries and Teaching Staffs.

Special to The Star

KENTON, May 13—Effecting a reduction in school operating costs of 12½ per cent, or slightly more than $16,000, members of the Kenton board of education faced the problem of decreased appropriations because of the lowered tax valuation, and acted to retain every educational advantage in the Kenton schools during the coming year.

Four plans for economy, each of which had been carefully worked out by Superintendent of Schools D. B. Clark, were discussed thoroughly, and a unanimous decision was reached upon one of them.

The plan adopted provided for:

Dropping the special opportunity school.

Eliminating three teachers in the grades.

Eliminating two teachers in the high school.

Reducing salaries of all employes of the board of education, from the superintendent on down on a sliding scale bare, ranging from five to 10½ per cent.

Brotherhood Holds Meet.

GALION, May 13—About 65 members and guests of the Peace Lutheran Men's Brotherhood met Thursday night at the church for the regular monthly business meeting and special program. Kenneth Petri, president, conducted business routine which was followed with a program arranged by Elmer Henkel. Chester Rush of Bucyrus was the speaker of the evening.

According to estimates by government experts 15,000,000 tons of coal could be saved in the United States annually by the elimination of hard water from locomotive boilers.

Although Sweden cultivates only ten per cent of its total area of 173,000 square miles it is believed to have a higher food production per capita than more populus European countries.

The United States is the world's largest user of quicksilver, followed by Germany and the United Kingdom, and its annual production has increased considerably in recent years.

The Lindbergh Tragedy

The tragic and horrible climax against which the hopes and prayers of the world have been directed has come in the kidnaping of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr.

Not in many years has news dealt the public mind and heart a blow so severe and sickening as that carried by the startling message which brought sudden and unexpected announcement that death had come to the child who had been sought far and wide for more than two months.

As the long quest for the missing baby dragged along, with hopes aroused by occasional heartening reports only to vanish within a few days or less, there came growing apprehension over his safety. Yet through all of these varying developments in the drama the human tendency to look for a happy termination was kept in the ascendancy and as a consequence the public virtually was unprepared for the shock conveyed by the final dire tidings.

Ordinarily when a person hears of suffering or tragedy entering the lives of others outside his own immediate family circle he is interested and of course sympathetic but experiences no deep sense of personal anguish or concern. With the disappearance of the Lindbergh child and the chain of events that followed there was a much different situation. The hearts and minds of millions of people in this and other countries have been vitally affected by the trend of this harrowing drama of life and its dreadful conclusion.

The fact that this was the child of one of America's most popular heroes was primarily the cause of universal interest in the kidnaping. But as the drama unfolded with its changing scenes and developments day after day, millions of persons, young and old virtually became participants in its progress.

Instinctively, fathers and mothers throughout the land saw themselves in the position that Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh were placed and visioned with shuddering contemplation how intense and terrible their suffering would be while waiting through hours then days then weeks to know the fate of a missing loved one.

And as these millions shared in a measure, the worry and fears of the Lindberghs during the long weeks of waiting so do they now join them in their sorrow.

Now the public will turn its attention and interest to the hunt for the person or persons guilty of this atrocious crime. Should it go unrequited Justice will leave unfinished one of the most important duties in her history as far as this country is concerned.

Jersey justice is noted for its speed particularly after criminals are captured and convicted. But the state has several outstanding crimes of recent years that have ended in unsolved mysteries and with the guilty never apprehended. It is insane to think that the Lindbergh case will go down in history with this group. New Jersey will have the unlimited police resources of the federal government as well as every other state in the Union to help Justice function effectively in the final chapters of this horrifying tragedy.

They Have Met Royalty

A group of American women visiting in London are happier today. They have met royalty—the royalty of Britain. They have lended the knee expressed gratitude for the royal favor of the coveted introduction and marked the day with red letters. It is an old American custom.

Elsewhere while the happy ones were waiting in their limousines crowds were standing at stage doors and exits from radio studios waiting for a glimpse of their favorites. Perhaps they expected to get a cherished autograph or it may have been just the frank urging of curiosity.

Other places in the world men and women are pulling strings not always gently to get an introduction or an audience with the person who could do them a service. They too were awaiting their turn. And like the eager group who waited for hours in their limousines while eager onlookers crowded the curb waiting for an opportunity to gape and gossip they were intent on helping themselves.

The humorous angle is that each group is fairly critical of the other. Society figures don't wait for popular entertainers and entertainers scorn those who beg for audiences and most people utterly fail to understand why any woman wants to spend weeks learning court etiquette and buying dresses to pass a few breathless moments in the presence of royalty. Thus goes life around the circle proving among many things that men are all alike under the skin. But how deceiving the skin can be!

Ready for November.

Ohio's freakish direct primary machine was set in motion Tuesday and certain candidates were given certificates of approval.

The race for governor next November as matters now stand, Gov. White does not find a party's presidential ticket will be topped by Hamilton and David S. Ingalls vigorous young Republican who showed impressive strength lately in leading home a field containing two seasoned politicians, former Governor Myers Y. Cooper and Clarence J. Brown secretary of state.

Ingalls advocate of prohibition repeal can thank his two chief opponents for splitting the dry vote. That the swing in Ohio is toward a more liberal popular attitude on prohibition repeal is shown clearly by voting in other contests. Gilbert Bettman popular attorney general who also is an advocate of repeal defeated Louis J. Taber, national grange master and candidate of the Anti Saloon league by a wide plurality.

Votes decisions in these two contests will be hailed nationally as the most significant results of the primary. Little doubt is left that Ohio bound of the Anti Saloon league is bidding strongly for a place in the list of wet states. The final answer will be given next November in the race between Ingalls and Governor White unless the latter chooses to modify his stand from that taken in 1930 when he ran successfully as a dry on the same ticket with Senator Bulkley who was definitely wet.

There were no upsets on presidential slates. President Hoover was given the state's 55 Republican delegates. Governor White will lead the Democratic delegation to Chicago.

The primary demonstrated three facts. Ohio does not favor a standpat attitude on the prohibition problem. Unrest caused by unemployment and unfavorable conditions does not bring out the vote. The direct primary which in many cases amounts to cut throat competition among candidates is a problem calling for action. It weakens political parties encourages questionable tactics and confuses voters. Popular government works in spite of it, not by virtue of it.

Is Patience the Best Method?

Nothing discourages faith more completely than a sense of frustration. An open clash joins the issue squarely, the air is cleared and all parties know where they stand. Frustration blights ambition adding confusion to confusion until hope in the future and faith in the present are endangered seriously.

For this reason American citizens should be alive to the realization that they are on trial in these days as truly as their government is on trial. The very fact that it is their government, subject to their whims and opinions to a sometimes dangerous extent, should be enough to convince them that by criticizing it they imply the presence of qualities within themselves which qualify them as critics.

Within the last few months there has been an outcry against government that probably will appear in the summing up of the period as one of its outstandingly important events. The people frequently in contradiction of their own actions and demands have asked for governmental economy. Difficult as it is to realize that "the people" embraces the entire population of the United States, the realization is necessary if it is to be understood why the government has not found it easy to economize.

The unpleasant fact is that demands for economy have been matched by demands for spending—both made by the people, themselves. Another unpleasant fact and a more significant one is that the demands for spending, because they come from organized groups are being recognized by congressmen, in preference to the others. That they are thus heeded is not creditable to congressional bravery but neither is it creditable to the considerable groups of the national population which make them.

The consequence has been to instill in the minds of those whose demands have not been met a sense of frustration the consequences of which may lead to grave danger unless checked by the use of new resources of faith in government. At least one of those resources is a certain kind of patience which might be defined as a mass philosophical attitude in the presence of vexatious problems. It should be nothing like resignation for in that direction lies the greatest danger to popular government. It should resemble more the action of a well balanced mind which grasps the main points to be corrected its unfavorable aspects judiciously and systematically.

In the field of active method there is a place for every limit of method but the new famous one of passive resistance. If the United States is to emerge from its present trials better for the experience action will be its salvation or ruin. There is no better time to realize what is at stake. The grave consequences of the latter dare not when it has been suggested it mingle with faith in their government based on shrinking at the failure to heed their demands. Debates are not won until the last word has been spoken and there are many words yet to be said for the question of governmental economy is settled.

SUBSTITUTES FOR VOLSTEAD

John M. Morehead United States minister to Sweden seems to have made a good impression on a senate subcommittee which has considered a proposal for submission of the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment. Mr. Morehead has seen the Bratt system work in Sweden. The citizen is licensed and limited. He has a book for the purchase of hard liquor but it permits him only four quarts a month and up a misbehavior it can be taken away from him. There is less restriction on less intoxicating beverages.

Apparently the system works in Sweden but there is little reason to believe it would work here. There is too much machinery in it. Sweden is a small country of orderly habits and a homogeneous people. A system which might work very well there might break down at the first test in the United States. Americans do not need look to Europe to study experiments foisted under different conditions. Canada has made successful demonstrations of control under conditions more similar to those in the United States. Of the Canadian system the Quebec is the most rational and it offers the best example.

Quebec does not ticket the citizen and it does not impose restrictions which would provoke evasions. Americans might not like direct government vending of spirits but in that fashion Quebec has taken the element of private profit out of the sale of whisky gin etc. No one is trying to increase sales. Although the government gets a revenue from the business it is out of nature for a government clerk to think of himself as a revenue producer. That is not his end of the transaction. More often than not he will have to urge the customer to take it or leave it.

The use of spirituous intoxicants is not permitted in public places but a reasonable distinction is made in favor of wines and beer for the public sale of which licenses may be granted. A civilized use of wine with meals is well and a citizen may have his beer in a taproom.

Here is a system which keeps its restrictive regulations within the probabilities of human acceptance of them. That is the first victory in planning a control of conduct which is to affect great masses of people. The United States ought to take the line of least resistance. Quebec is that of the least.

Any one is not the only land which has considered the social problem of intoxicating beverages. Its only distinction is that it is the country which has made the greatest mess of it. No other country is having such spasms. There is no reason why the United States should continue to have fits. Americans are in the dry delirium tremens.—Chicago Tribune.

Twenty Years Ago

Today is Monday May 13

It was announced that many of the factories would shut down Wednesday afternoon in honor of President Taft who was to be here for a campaign speech. The President began his ohio tour today starting in Marietta.

C. M. Tilin deputy state sealer of weights and measures had accumulated a small room full of scales and measuring devices seized because they failed to come up to legal requirement.

Ira B. Lester was appointed Pennsylvania railway yard conductor here succeeding George W. Craft who was going to Columbus to take a train run.

The grand jury for the May term of court returned indictments in the cases of five persons facing charges ranging from petit larceny to murder.

Marion's first primary campaign opened at the Gem theatre with Congressman Phil P. Campbell of Kansas and Congressman J. Adam Ellis of Minnesota speakers advocating the renomination of President Taft on the program. The Star reported they stepped through the ropes and kicked the colonels hat all around the ring. The colonel referred to was former President Theodore Roosevelt.

Four members of the school board heard bidders on new heating and ventilating systems for the State street and Lincoln school buildings argue their claims for the contract. The four refused to let the contract involving about $7,000 preferring to have a full board in attendance to make the decision.

A meeting of city council opened at 7 o'clock and lasted until midnight and more than half of the time according to The Star's report was consumed in disagreements and jangling.

Sun Rays Effect Remarkable Cures

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND M. D.

Not so many years ago the curative power of the sun's rays on certain cases of tuberculosis was accidentally discovered and this led to exhaustive study and research regarding the action of these rays on the human body.

We all know what happens when a portion of the body is exposed to the rays of the sun. The skin will at first turn red and if the exposure is continued sunburn will result.

Ordinary sunburn by the sun's rays may not be dangerous but in the therapeutic application of the sun rays with one of the sun ray lamps great care should be exercised. General exposure of the body to the sun ray should be avoided as dangerous effects may follow which would prevent the application of subsequent treatments.

If a portion of the body—at first one leg and foot perhaps is exposed to the direct rays for from 10 to 15 minutes daily a pigmentation commonly known as tan will appear. If on the following days other small areas of the body are exposed gradually the skin will take on a brown tint. Usually a marked improvement of the general health follows such treatment.

Sunlight not only acts upon the skin but stimulates the blood vessels and thus sends the blood in a more forceful stream through the body. The blood becomes richer and the red blood cells increase in number. The ability to resist infection is increased and the immunizing properties of the serum are strengthened. Weak muscles become stronger under the sun's rays and the internal organs perform their work with greater ease.

The application of sun rays either by direct rays of the sun or by one of the sun ray lamps has been found very beneficial to children whose living condition deprive them of the advantages of getting out into the sunshine. After treatment these children have shown improvement both in physical appearance and in disposition.

The beneficial elements of natural sun rays cannot penetrate ordinary window glass. A special type of glass must be used if the treatment by actual sunlight is to be given indoors.

Tuberculosis and rickets are the two diseases in which sun rays have made almost miraculous cures. Rickets is a deficiency disease brought on not only by improper food, but also by living in dark and unsanitary homes. During the winter months or seasons when the weather is cold and damp many cases of rickets develop.

Anemia which is so common both in tuberculosis and rickets improves markedly under the sun treatment. The bones become strong and their content of mineral matter increases.

By all means get out into the sunshine all you can and take sun baths in a conservative way. It is inadvisable however to overdo the sun treatment. Too much exposure of the body at one time or too long periods of treatment may cause blistering and even dangerous burns.

Austria is planning to build an automobile highway across the Grossglockner range where it will rise to an elevation of 8,200 feet above sea level to connect the provinces of Carinthia and Salzburg.

Apparatus installed by the Bureau of Standards to measure the wave lengths sent out by the broadcasting and other radio transmitting stations in the United States has an accuracy of one part in a million.

More than 1,000 miles of new transmission lines have been placed in operation in Great Britain as the national Electricity Board was formed to bring cheaper generation of power at the most efficient stations.

Taxes Run High in Germany

BY PAUL SCHEMKEMETI
United Press Correspondent

Berlin May 13 Taxed men in Germany pay a $100 a year dog fee and car buyers pay $300 when found however the tax collectors insure against paying off approximately one-fifth of that fee for the government.

The $5000-a-year married man here pays an income tax of $763 if his earnings are derived from a salary and $1,050 if his income is from an independent profession or from ownership of an industrial. In 1928 however the average $5000 taxpayers were earning more than $7,000 annually and their number now is far fewer.

Until June 1930 the income tax was lower. Then came Hindenburg's emergency decree to stop the scale for $5,000 amounting to $750 yearly for the married man and $100 for the unmarried taxpayer with an annual income of $5,000. The current tax is additional to the regular income tax.

Of the profits of wage and salary earners $ ... with a wife and two children pays no ... tax while single men are less than $35 ... On the remainder of his income ... wage earner pays a tax of about 10 per ... to all incomes less than $2,300 per ... the higher brackets pay the same taxes as the independent taxpayers. These pay 10 per cent on the first $2,000 of their income on the next $1,000 they pay 12.5 per cent on each additional $1,000 15 per cent, ... 0 or up to 40 per cent.

Linking the economic crisis the following additional taxes if the present tax were imposed.

First an increase of the income tax by five to ten per cent.

Secondly the crisis tax which amounts to one to five per cent of the total income (with the tax free amount) of the wage and salary earners and to 0.75 to four per cent of the income of independent taxpayers.

Thirdly a head tax. This tax is levied by the cities which may increase it arbitrarily.

However the less upon incomes is not exhausted by this imposing list. There is for instance a special tax on unearned income amounting to 10 per cent furthermore a trade tax payable on all profits derived from a trade starting at 5 per cent and rising to an unlimited level as cities may impose arbitrary surtaxes. A turnover tax of .85 to 2.5 per cent on the gross receipts from the sale of the taxpayer's own products or of his merchandise not destined to be resold.

Property taxes are also levied.

Columbiana County

BY J. H. GALBRAITH

There are several county names in Ohio's list that suggest a fancied resemblance to other places such as Lorain and Medina and others suggesting physical features such as Fairfield or Champaign but only one that is both beautiful and forged for the use that one is the name of Columbiana county.

How in his history of the state says the name was made up of the name of Columbus and Anna but does not venture to say what Columbus or what Anna was in mind by those who made up the name. W. A. Taylor in his Hundred Year Book of Ohio says that Columbus the discoverer is referred to and Queen Anna but history's pages contain the names of many Queen Annes. Which one is referred to or why any of them should be noted in the name of an Ohio county is not clear.

Columbus the state capital could not have been in mind when the county was named for Columbiana county was established before Columbus was founded. It was formed out of portions of Washington and Jefferson counties in 1803. The law establishing the state capital and naming it Columbus was enacted Feb. 14, 1812.

Though the county lies on the Ohio river it is far above the center of the state and was as secure as any county in the state against invasion from the south during the Civil war but two things connected with the war bring Columbiana into the picture. It was the birthplace of Clement L. Vallandigham whose opposition to the prosecution of the war by the North led to his arrest and transportation within Confederate lines and it was within the county that John Morgan and his regiment of Confederate cavalry the only activity of the war that took place on Ohio soil, were taken prisoners.

The Charm of old Holland.

BY JUDGE MANNING

To any one who has traveled extensively it is always a matter of surprise that so many tourists hurry from capital to capital although except for a few variations they find life just about the same in every metropolis while all around they are passing by beautiful spots oases of peace and quiet untouched by time idly dreaming upon the face of the star about them. In such places one can relax think cope perhaps with perplexities and problems and come back home refreshed in mind and body. Such a place is Zeeland in Holland.

If you should find yourself en route say from London to Holland be persuaded to break your journey at Flushing the end of the water crossing. Don't take the train for some bustling city in continental Europe. Tarry awhile instead at the hotel in Flushing and thence set out to explore Zeeland and its people. You will enjoy the experience and you will find that you can always return to modernity and comfort at the hotel in Flushing.

The Island of Walcheren is especially fascinating. It is like a return of old Holland come to life. It is a farming community and a hive of industry. There is color everywhere. The houses all have window shutters kept freshly painted in flamboyant colors bright and vivid. In the kitchen there is a shining array of copper and brass ornaments and kitchen utensils no what less gay if not so colorful.

The life of this old world island revolves round the town of Middleburg its market town. Every cobble stone in its streets has been fetched hundreds of years ago from abroad. Its glorious old Town Hall is one of the finest medieval buildings in all Europe and is an amazing contrast to the cramped city of the rest of the little town for it is most ornate.

We hope that you will some day explore the region of Zeeland and will visit Middleburg on a Thursday for that is market day. The picturesque costumes of the peasants have an excellent background in the narrow streets where the mellowed brick houses all have such gaily painted shutters. In front of the sixteenth century Town Hall there is always a big crowd with every one in the national dress. The women wear crinoline shaped skirts and snow white headdresses and have exquisite complexions that are at once the envy and despair of every woman from the outside world. Every woman wears gold ornaments of curious shape and design and these are an index of her religious creed and the village from which she comes. No woman in the district would permit herself to attend market without conforming to this custom—a curious survival of the Middle Ages.

Throughout the market there is simplicity, placidity contentment.

Bargaining is shrewd for the Dutch are ever a thrifty and wise people but there is never any argument, never a raised voice.

A Washington Daybook

BY HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington May 13.—A slender soft voiced black haired member of congress from Missouri who spends his spare time delving into musty tomes on parliamentary law when he is not answering letters from constituents succeeded in throwing the house into the biggest snarl the hill has experienced in many years.

He is Clarence Cannon of Elsberry a former and the house's expert on parliamentary procedure.

Cannon's coup d'etat came on the day when the house was asked to adopt a rule calculated to speed up the proposed economy bill as much as possible. And it came with such swiftness and with such logic it is doubtful whether any one except Cannon himself knew what it was all about.

I was a parliamentary maneuver executed with the skill of an expert. And after execution a stunned and baffled house leader was found lying in its wake.

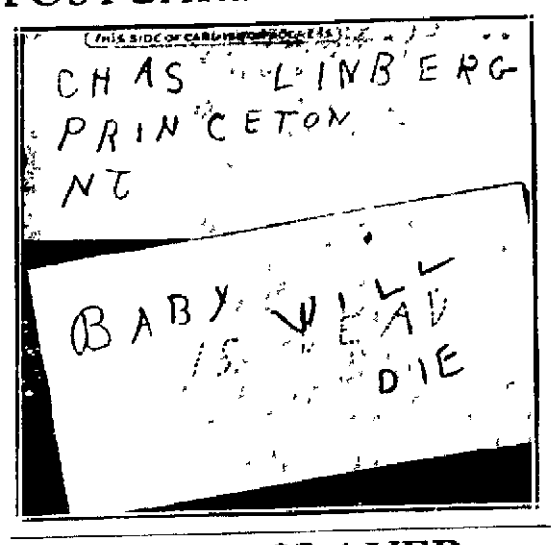
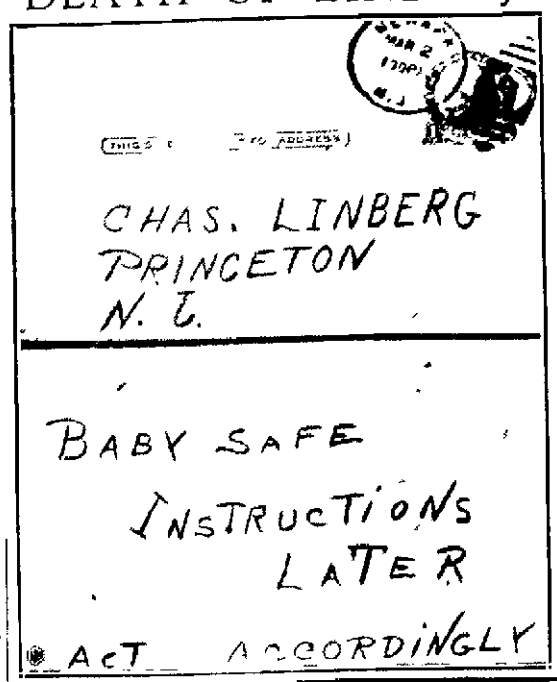
POSTCARD FORECAST DEATH OF LINDY JR.



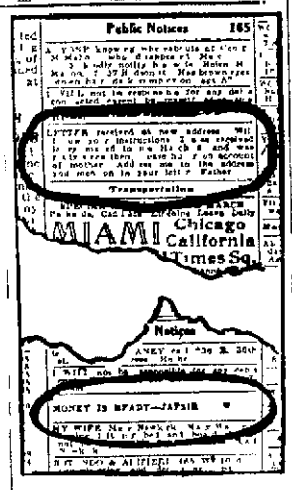


The tragic death of Charles Augustus Lindbergh Jr was accurately forecast in a postcard message, shown in upper left above, received by Lindbergh a few days following the kidnaping on March 1 The cruelly printed words Your Baby Is Dead had been partially erased and the message Your Baby Will Die had been substituted

Another postcard message received by the noted flier shortly after the abduction carried a message directly opposite to the other, informing the colonel that his baby was safe and telling him instructions would be given later The card is shown in photo to in upper right

A third possible clue to the kidnapers which police are now checking is contained in a series of classified ads (lower right appearing in a New York paper some signed Luther and others "Infsie Infsie was identified later as Dr J F Condon of New York an intermediary for Lindbergh in negotiations with the supposed kidnapers

These ads appeared on several different occasions following the kidnaping but their significance was never definitely established until the payment of $50 000 to the purported kidnapers on a promise to return the baby Subsequent developments in the case have led police to believe the $50 000 was paid to persons other than the real kidnapers.



CAPTURE SLAYER, IS HOOVER ORDER

Federal and State Forces Unite in Work on Lindbergh Case

clothing or a piece of cloth that convinced them contact had been established with the actual kidnaper

And so the theory had to be considered that the kidnapers believed by many officials to have been crazed killed their tiny victim almost immediately stripped off the sleeping suit and after the body had been cast aside in the hidden hollow where it was found set about obtaining ransom for a child they knew could never be returned to its parents alive

Account of Discovery

Discovery of the child's skeleton was made by William Allen Negro truckman His truck driving the Hopewell Mount Rose highway had halted and Allen had left it to enter the woods

Brush and undergrowth blocked his path He stopped and pushed it aside

Beneath the brush underneath a layer of rotting leaves lay the body of Charles Augustus Lindbergh Jr only child of Anne daughter of the late Senator Dwight W Morrow and Charles Lindbergh

Clinging to the decomposed body was woather worn flannel that had kept the baby warm that night of March 1, when his nurse tucked him into his crib These shreds of baby clothing were identification enough these and the matted, curly blonde hair

Today a horror kindled incentive drove forces of the law to unrestrained hunt for the murderer The lasses of secrecy and of fear for the baby's safety no longer held It was no longer necessary to exercise extreme care Murder had been done

A compound fracture of the skull caused death The murder evidently was done very soon after the kidnaping probably within an hour A man mad apparently motivated either by an intense hatred or an overpowering fear struck the child Physicians described it as a 'terrible blow

No Weapon Found

No weapon has been found There was added possibility the baby had been buried violently from a motorcar

State police of New Jersey who had been in direct charge of the search for the baby since the night 73 days ago when the voice of Col Lindbergh over a telephone said My baby has been kidnaped and the identification of the body A physician aided confirmation Later Miss Betty Gow the baby's nurse said she was quite certain the body was that of the Lindbergh child

The parents themselves remained completely in the background while their grateful thanks was being written

Father Not at Home

Mrs Lindbergh and her mother Mrs Dwight Morrow were at the Hopewell estate Col Lindbergh was absent engaged in the baby hunt with Curtis the Norfolk 'intermediary He returned early this morning

Close friends said Mrs Lindbergh who is preparing for another baby in the late summer had accepted the news with her usual equanimity

One of the strange weird jests of the horror that for 73 days had turned the Sourland estate of the Lindberghs into a tragic heart freak house was the discovery of the body virtually at its doorstep

Running through the brush grown land and passing within 75 feet of the baby's burial place is a telephone wire It was strung hurriedly to carry to the world news of the baby hunt—and its excited messages of hope of new clues of imminent discoveries pressed hardly more than a whisper distance from the object of the hunt

The spot where the body was found is thick grown scrub The brush now is heavy leaved The dead leaves of a happier autumn form a patch carpet over the ground

Shortly after 3 p m yesterday a truck hauling timbers to be used in a moving job stopped beside the road Allen left the truck and went into the brush

Horrified at what he saw Allen ran back to the road and called Orville Wilson When Wilson viewed the body he said

What are you going to do?

Allen said I am going to notify the state police.

The police found the shallow grave on a slight slope The body had been concealed with leaves dirt and brush The child's form lay face down and the depression in which it rested was so slight as to indicate that efforts to conceal it had been very hurried

County Physician Charles Mitchell examined the body

The baby was struck a fearful blow the hand he said The skull was fractured clear across the top There was a hole over the right ear The lower left leg is missing

State police took charge of the body and the Lindberghs were notified The press and nine months gave only baffled details No words was forthcoming during the night from the parents

Efforts to get the intermediaries to comment were without result Then were a number of them come indorsed by Col Lindbergh and others acting upon their own initiativ The most active were Dr Condon of New York and Curtis Others were Morris Rosner mystery man with connections dipping into the underworld —Salvy Spitale and Irving Bitz—also presumed to have the confidence of gang members and Gaston B Means acting as the agent of Mrs Edward B McLean Private detective and newspapers also were active in separate searches

All these intermediaries have moved like secret shadows through the wilds Finally it was thought the efforts to explain that any other course would endanger the life of the child It was this secrecy that hindered still the search for the baby Jafsie

The tragic death of Charles Augustus Lindbergh Jr was accurately forecast in a postcard message, shown in upper left above, received by Lindbergh a few days following the kidnaping on March 1 The cruelly printed words Your Baby Is Dead had been partially erased and the message Your Baby Will Die had been substituted

Another postcard message received by the noted flier shortly after the abduction carried a message directly opposite to the other, informing the colonel that his baby was safe and telling him instructions would be given later The card is shown in photo to in upper right

hoax by which that sum was paid to a man near a Yonkers N Y cemetery on the man's promise to return the child

The Norfolk intermediaries — Curtis and two associates—were even more active than Jafsie employing airplane yachts and fast motorcars in negotiations that ran up and down the Atlantic seaboard and out to sea Col Lindbergh himself participated in these negotiations as recently as yesterday it was learned

Authorities understood that at the moment the body was discovered the minister was seeking to contact the kidnapers somewhere off Long Island

Mrs McLean the Washington woman who acting independently put up $100 000 in an effort to return the child to his parents and who now charges Gaston B Means her agent appropriated the money to his own use declined to be quoted

Efforts at definite identification were pursued even after the police the nurse and the county physician had satisfied themselves that the skeleton was that of the Lindbergh baby A physician who was present at the baby's birth was called in early today and added substantiation to the earlier identification

The mysterious ransom note reputedly demanding $50 000 for the baby's safe return was withheld from publication Col Schwarzkopf commanding the police said it still was regarded as an important clue

The announcement that Dr Condon Jafsie and Curtis had been summoned to police headquarters at Trenton and that they were to be turned over to prosecuting authorities was the first definite indication that police finally were ready to throw aside their hands off policy concerning private negotiations and demand from the intermediaries a full account of their actions

Authorities were still exercising extraordinary precautions to safeguard the feeling of the parents Questions seeking to determine how the news had affected Mr and Mrs Lindbergh and what plans they may have made toward bringing the abductor killer to justice were not answered

The report of the autopsy performed by Dr Mitchell county physician was gruesome in detail In addition to the lower left leg other parts of the body were missing due presumably to decomposition hastened by exposure The left hand and right forearm were gone as were some abnormal organs The conclusion reached by the physician however was without equivocation He said

Diagnosis of the cause of death is a fractured skull due to a terrific violence

Expressions of sympathy came from every corner of the world from Paris to which Lindbergh then the 'Lone Eagle' flew from New York in a single, uninterrupted flight from Washington were his first later was given the official acclaim of the American people and from Japan and China to which with his wife as navigator and radio operator he flew on a vacation tour last year

A dramatic coincidence was noted in the fact that in the hour when the world was hearing news of the baby's death Lou Reichers New Jersey airman, was lifting the nose of his airplane into the night skies for a two-stop flight to Paris in an endeavor to cut in half the time made by Colonel Lindbergh

NEW SHREDDED BISCUIT MAKING BIG HIT

Grocers Say Housewives Welcome Many Improvements in Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit

Local grocers have pronounced the new Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT biscuit one of the most up-to-date food products on the market. It offers many outstanding and popular features. For one thing, the biscuits are toasted a golden brown on both top and bottom—not just one side.

The new Kellogg biscuit is also found in a more convenient, economical size. Two biscuits just fit the cereal bowl—and you get 15 to the package instead of a dozen.

Mothers will especially be interested in the fact that every package is certified for food value by the Medical Arts Laboratory of Philadelphia. These new biscuits are considered a splendid food for both adults and children. With either hot or cold milk, you achieve a well-balanced amount of vitamins, minerals, proteins and carbohydrates.

The Kellogg Company uses a special process of "pressure-cooking" which retains all the food value of the whole wheat and makes it very easy to digest. At the same time it develops delicious flavor.

These improved biscuits can be identified by the name, Kellogg's, and the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
